

The 19th ANNUAL SCULPTURES & DESIGNS IN WOOD 2007

To all carving club's members and past members:

Everything seems to be coming together, and everyone is doing what they can to make this show a successful event.

Jim Sullivan has completed a special brochure that will help promote the show. Call Jim and let him know how many brochures you will need to pass out to friends, relatives, and coworkers. 10 tickets have been mailed out to each member. Please either sell or purchase these tickets for your friends or relatives who would be interested in coming to our show.

Smokey Mt. Woodcarvers, Chauga River Whittler, and Ralph Long are our Vendors again this year. If you have supply needs this would be a good time to purchase the things you need from vendors who continually support of our club.

Events are planned each day with carvers and other artists demonstrating their skills. Pete LeClair our featured artist will be on hand each day to demonstrate his art, autograph his books, and help judge entries. He also will be giving away a door prize each day. If you or some young person is interest in woodcarving make sure they know that they can enter in the youth competition ages 11 to 16 at no charge for entry. Pete LeClair would like to put on a youth demonstration. If you have one of Pete LeClair's books, and would like for him to sign it, bring it with you for his autograph. We will also have his books for sale at the vendors' booths. Make sure you get him to sign it!

One of the highlights of every show is the "Whittling Contest". Eddie Howard, an outstanding carver and Club member, will be conducting the contest on Saturday and Sunday. Make sure you bring your tools and get involved with this fun event. Prizes will be awarded!

Also, a drawing for donated woodcarvings will be featured at the show. If you have not donated one there is still time. Bring it to the next Carve-in October 20th or Call Charlie Arnold.

As the time gets near I am getting excited. But, I don't want for us to get complacent. All of us need to be inviting people, putting out poster in stores, barber shops, talking to friends and family, and selling tickets.

This is a transitional year for our club as we move both our Show and Headquarters to Mauldin. So let's promote it.

Put your final touch on your carvings and enter them in the show.

To good carving and great fun,
See you there,

~Dave~
